Protect Your Construction Documents

IRVINE, CA – A spilled cup of coffee soaks your blueprints at a construction site. A grading plan slips into a muddy drainage ditch. Someone sets a heavy display on a one-of-a-kind drawing. Or, maybe it's just raining.

Damage to your valuable plans and documents is lurking just around the corner. That's why EASI FILE, the document storage specialists, has introduced a new, simple, economical (less than $3.50 ea.) solution to protect plans, maps and drawings -- the PRO-ONE Protective Envelope.

PRO-ONE is a rugged, transparent envelope that is large enough to fully cover engineering and architectural documents, maps, film, artwork, and other printed materials. Unlike lamination (which encases individual plan pages in plastic), with the PRO-ONE you slip one sheet or a full set of plans in and out with ease. You can make field notes and red line changes right on the original documents, and then slide the plans back into the envelope for protection and travel.

Each EASI FILE PRO-ONE Protective Envelope is manufactured of tough 4-mil. anti-static polyethylene in a variety of sizes and configurations. The PRO-ONE is available with top or side entry; and in single or multiple pocket set-ups. It accommodates plans or drawings of 24" x 36" and 30" x 42".

PRO-ONE protects documents from water, dirt, coffee, masonry spills, or other unexpected conditions that can occur in the field. It has been specifically designed to give builders, specialty contractors, architects, designers and engineers complete peace of mind, knowing that their most important drawings won't be ruined or damaged on-site or in transit.
